Elbala 2014

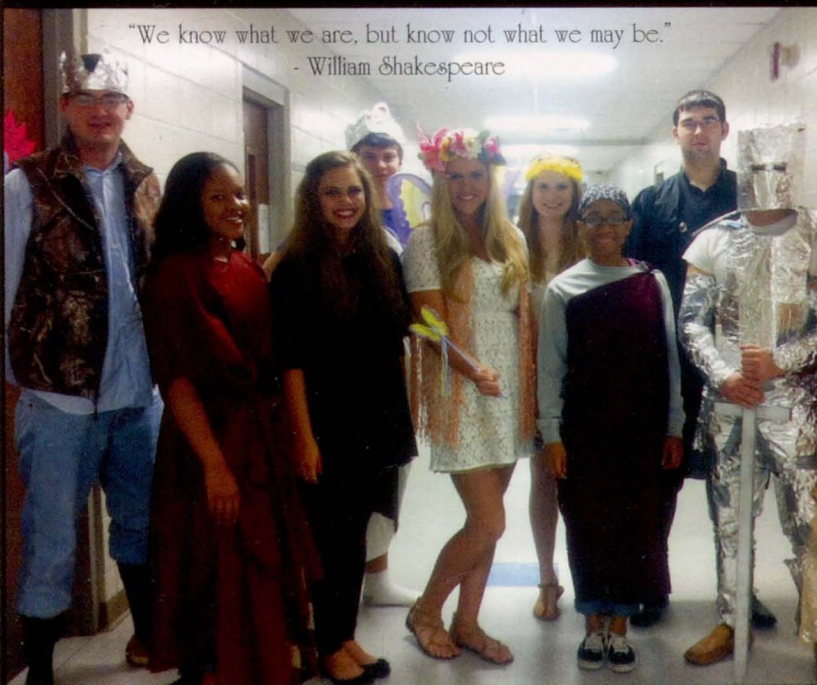

I GOT THE EYE OF THE TIGER, A FIGHTER, DANCING THROUGH THE FIRE
 'CAUSE I AM A CHAMPION AND YOU'RE GONNA HEAR ME ROAR.

Page one of the 2014 Elba. For kindergarteners, page one of their school careers. For seventh graders, page one of high school. For seniors, page one of adulthood.

We face many "page ones" in our lives. Whether it is page one of a new chapter - same book; or, maybe we are about to begin a whole new book. So, just like the books we check out from the library, we excitedly begin page one not knowing what journeys, adventures, and experiences await us.

We travel through the pages of life's books one page at a time, but at least for a little while at EHS, we get to see those pages Through a Tiger's Eyes.

"One Team...One Goal...Excellence"

EES is the setting for the beginning chapter of students' life stories. This is the place where lifelong memories and friends are made. Whether that memory be the first day of school, or playing on the playground, or even not wanting to do Accelerated Math, this is where it all begins. Teachers and students alike will always remember the memories made here. Whether the journey is just beginning, or a student's time at Elba Elementary is coming to a close, the teachers and students both will never forget Elba Elementary!

6th Grade Graduation

Congrats Grads!

This year the sixth grade class presented a wonderful Jazz performance. They had the crowd clapping and tapping their feet to the beat! After their performance ended, awards were presented to multiple students. Then, after all awards had been received, the moment each student had waited for finally arrived: the time to receive their diplomas. After each student received his or her diploma, and the graduation ceremony was concluded; all of the students dashed to the after-party! There, the new graduates partied hard and had a great time! Congratulations Graduates and future Class of 2020!

These students deserved every award they recieved! They worked very hard and in the end it payed off!

Some of the awards given included, the Principal's Award, A & B Honor's Roll Award, and even the President's Award!

Friends Forever!

Shh... Taylor and Elizabeth are in disguise!

"It's gotta be JAZZ!"

Digging Deeper

Q: If you hang out with any person, from any time period, who would it be and why?

7th grader Trenton Sanders: "Lacrae because he's a Christian and really cool."

Q: When asked which celebrity was the cutest, these four girls all said, "CHANNING TATUM!"

Q: If you won a million dollars what would you do with it?

Senior Jawanna Hooks: I would buy myself the biggest house in the world, I would buy my son multiple pools and a bunch of different playgrounds.

Q: Since this is your first year being at Elba, what is your favorite thing here?

Mrs. Strickland: All of the science resources such as the outdoor classroom, the lab, and the equipment that's available to use.

Tiger Snaps

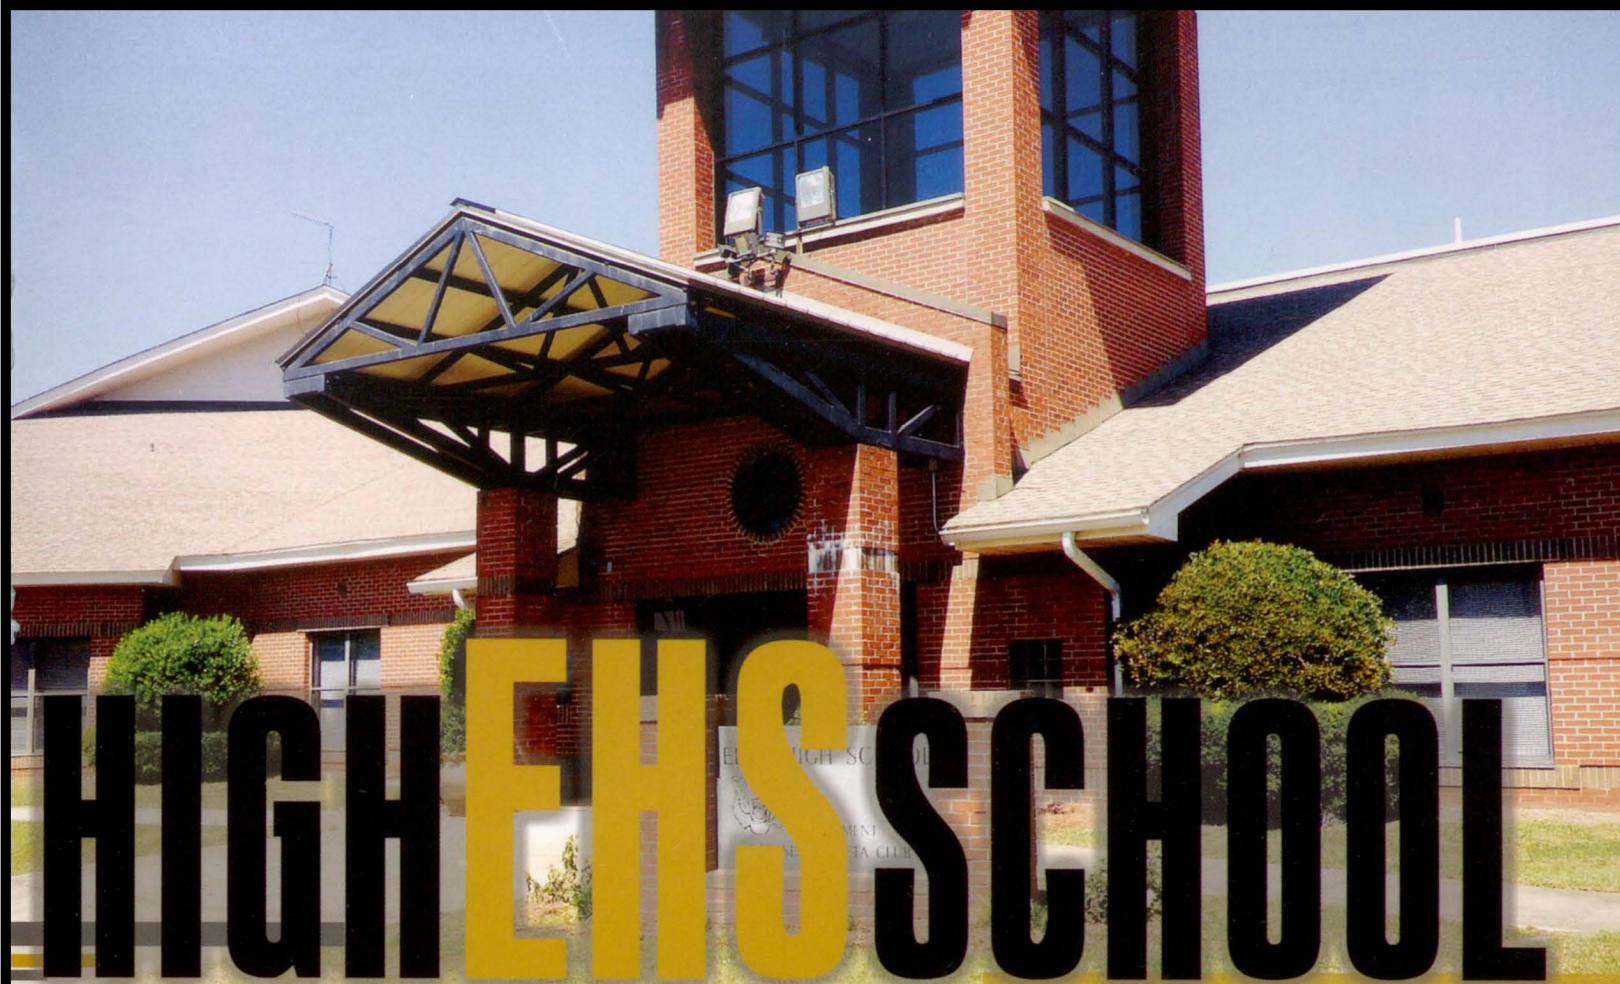

Let's get peppy for the pep rally! It's time to cheer on the tigers to playoffs!

Only on Friday the 13th would the sprinklers turn on during the half-time show...

Brea was brave during the Sea Lab!

HIGH SCHOOL

Memories: The student section during the basketball season always roared for their Tigers! Because of that support our tigers won the state championship!

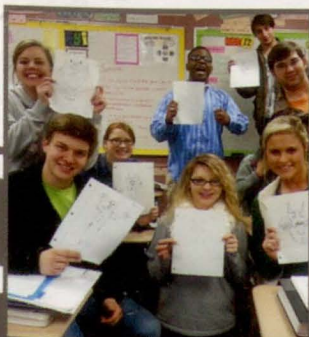

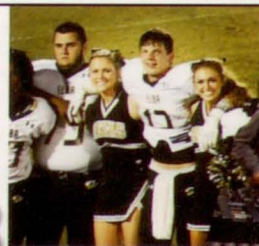

Our Mission at Elba High School is to offer and provide a challenging educational experience in a safe, student-centered environment. The needs of the students are put above all others and we strive every day to rise up and meet those needs.

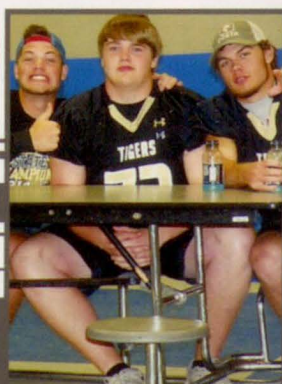

HIGH SCHOOL it may be hard/annoying/awkward/irritating/etc. but admit it, you're going to miss it when it ends.

It must be an off day for Cody's and Flynn's "smolder."

REMEMBER WHEN...

Class of 2014 enjoys a day out-and-about in Enterprise. Touring the campus at ESCC, watching the Weevil Entertainer's perform, and chowing-down on pizza instead of lunchroom food.

Markia snuggles up with her new valentine. I wonder what her boyfriend will think?

The Show Must Go On: Ward Brunson marches on even when the sprinklers "accidentally" go off during the marching band's homecoming performance. Band members kept their sets regardless, rewarded with a standing ovation for the Elba stands.

*"Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, and I-I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference."*

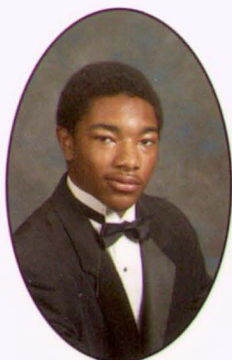

As seventh graders we stood in front of the class and timidly recited these words. Not until our Senior year did we really begin to reflect on the meaning behind Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken," and how pivotal these words have proven to be throughout our high school career. At Elba, we have had an extraordinary opportunity to form friendships with our classmates; friendships that have molded us into the people we are today. As a class we have laughed at each other, sang and danced, cried out in outrage, formed jokes and cliches about each other, and protested tests together - all together. Graduating from Elba High School does not mean that the journey is over and that we must all part ways, only that we have met our first milestone. May the best road always lead us home.

GO CJ GO!!

If there is one thing we all agree on as classmates it is that CJ Arnold makes Fridays more fun. Who could forget the classic "Who Dropped the Screw in the Tuna?" Free Write Friday in Mrs. Martin's Class. Or, maybe you still remember the dance-off he had with the inflatable tube. There is no doubt that no one can start a chant or an inside joke like CJ does.

GRADS

Class of 2014

Class President, Kelinda Griffin, welcomes all guests to the 2014 Elba High School Graduation Ceremony.

Senior, Saeg Johnson, delivers the invocation of the night to begin the ceremony.

2014 Salutatorian Speech

One key part of our humor has been the ability to laugh at our own mistakes. We never laughed at each other, but only with each other.

I think it is safe to let the secret out-- there was no soccer ball present for CJ to trip over when he broke the podium, and Malik Kelley really did "accidentally" fall through the window with a little help from Jada.

Many in the crowd will not understand our inside jokes, but the memories made in this building will be ones that will never be forgotten. So, my first challenge to myself and my fellow graduates is for us to take this humor that has characterized our class for the past six years to college and beyond.

In a world plagued by war, natural disasters, and economic turmoil, we need ambassadors of humor that will approach each conflict and new opportunity with clever wit and unbreakable optimism.

Thank you Class of 2014 for the last six years. I will hold all the friendships I have formed- and foster all of the good times I have had inside these doors in my heart forever.

Let us not forget to keep laughing as we move to the next phase of our lives, because, as the Shelby Mason once said, "When you are done laughing, laugh some more. Because when everything is said and done, those are the memories you are going to want back."

I can honestly say I have never once stopped laughing with you guys. We came in as giggly seventh graders and now we leave with a smile at all of the memories we have made.

As we prepare to say goodbye to Elba High, we must say thank you to our parents, families, friends, teachers, and administrators who have been by our sides throughout our academic journey. We have been molded and shaped by each one of you, and we now sit here anticipating the culmination of our hard work & efforts of the past years, ready to take on the world with all of its challenges.

I personally would like to thank my parents for pushing me to achieve all that I have in my high school years, without their support and guidance I truly would not have been as successful. Finally I would like to thank my God above, Jesus Christ for giving me all the opportunities that I have been blessed with throughout my life.

Thank you all for being the beacon that has led us to this point. We will sincerely miss all the loving teachers and will never forget the lessons you have taught us, both inside and outside the classroom.

In eleventh grade we read works by F. Scott Fitzgerald, most famous for his novel, The Great Gatsby. Since then, I have fallen in love with his writing style. One night, I stumbled across an excerpt from his novel Benjamin Button that spoke to my heart. I would like to make my final challenge to the Class of 2014, and one to the audience as well, with this quote:

For what it is worth: It's never too late, or in my case, too early, to be whoever you want to be. There's no time limit, stop whenever you want. You can change or stay the same, there are no rules to this thing. We can make the best or the worst of it. I hope you make the best of it. And I hope you see things that startle you. I hope you feel things you never felt before. I hope you meet people with a different point of view. I hope you live a life you're proud of. If you find that you're not, I hope you have the courage to start all over. Class of 2014, I hope you strive to live a life you can be proud of as we embark on this journey into adulthood.

Thank You

Morgan Matthews

2014 Valedictorian Speech

Good evening administrators, faculty, parents, friends and classmates. Welcome to the best day of high school, graduation.

We have worked so hard to get to this day. Through tears, sweat, and prayers, we have finally made it. I would like to say congratulations Elba High School Class of 2014.

Some were told they would never make it to this point in their lives. So, to those of you who were told that, just remember you made it this far and anything is possible with a dream, hope, determination, and hard work. Do not ever let hardships in your life destine you to failure, but to build onto every mistake and prosper.

We have spent an average of 2,340 days here at Elba City Schools starting from the first day of kindergarten. We have spent a lot of time with teachers educating us in math, english, science, and history; but I had one thought about all this. We have learned so much here, but perhaps the biggest thing Elba City Schools has taught this class is that things change and change very often.

From changes in teachers and administrators, to changes in school policy and enforcement-- to tuck our shirts, or not to tuck our shirts. Phones allowed at break and lunch, or no phones allowed. Each year we have encountered something new to which we have had to adapt. But perhaps the biggest change I have seen, has been the change in ourselves. We have all changed physically, but we have also changed on the inside, and hopefully for the better, as we have matured into young adults.

Change has definitely been the biggest lesson that we the Class of 2014 have learned. We may forget what we learned in our text books one day, but we will always remember the changes that happened.

This is what I want to talk to you about tonight-- change. Change is not always desired, but sometimes it is a necessity. Our lives are changing rapidly, we are making choices that will shape us forever.

My message to my class is- even in the midst of change make sure you're making a positive difference in this world. It does not matter from where you have come, your financial status, or even your social status.

There are people here in this class who are expected to fail and others who are expected to do great things. The truth is this whole class can do great things. We can change this world in a positive way one step at a time. We can overcome the diversity in our lives.

But my question is- will you or will you be the one who changes this world negatively and make it even worse than it already is. Whether you want to or not, you are changing and you will help change this world.

You have been given this great responsibility so what will you do with it. So I say, change this world for the better and follow your dreams.

I am so proud to be a part of this class here today. I won't miss this school, as far as the building goes, but I will miss my friends, some of the teachers, and all of our funny memories.

On behalf of my class, I would like to thank the teachers, parents, and friends for all you have given us. Whether it be your love, your support, or your time. We are so grateful for it all.

I would also like to thank my parents, Allen and Joyce Richard, and family for raising me and making me who I am today.

I would like to thank a special young lady has been part of my life for over 4 years and has also helped to make me who I am today, and that is Miss Rachel Laine Lee.

The One I am most thankful for is my God and my Savior for leading me and for my salvation.

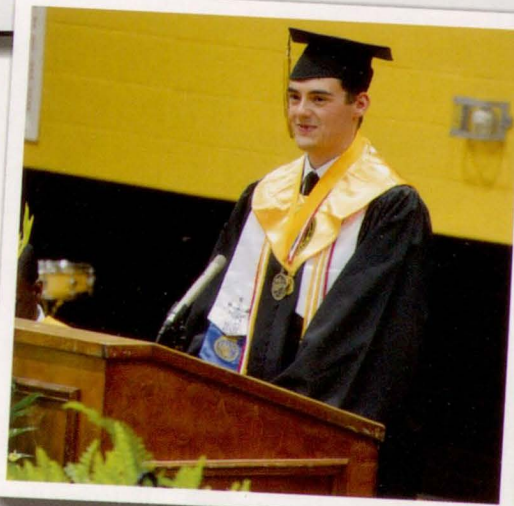

Finally the part that everyone has been waiting for and that is the end of this speech.

Fellow graduates, I wish you the best in all your endeavors and pray all your dreams come true and let me leave you with this final piece of advice. It comes from Proverbs chapter 3, verses 5 and 6.

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths."

Thank You

Kaleb Richard

GET UP FOR THE TIGERS

This year the student body did a great job of showing their tiger spirit. During basketball season, students started the season off right with "Bledsoe's Best." They cheered the girls' team through regionals, and the boys' team all the way to the state championship. With their "GOT YOGURT?" signs and t-shirts they paid homage to Coach Bledsoe's healthy eating habits. The oversized pictures, the bodysuits, wigs, and synchronized "Tebowing" all added to the excitement and team spirit. Many of these same students carried this spirit to the diamond, as they tailgated outside home softball and baseball games. They grilled hotdogs, played cornhole, and cheered on the "Hometown Tigers!" Great job student section. Hopefully, this will become part of the EHS tradition.

Nicholas finally gets the chance to dance with his FAVORITE teacher!

High School is not all about grades and school work, at Elba High School we like to have fun as well. This year, the students had many events to keep them busy. These included Homecoming, Prom, Jr. Miss and Miss Elbala pageants, and the Nifty Fifties. Through these events, we learn to take the time to pause and reflect and enjoy the memories that will live on with us even after we leave high school.

George Bullock, Muffin Mansfield, and Bob Stanley can't wait for the Hippity Hop!

Homecoming 2013

Miss Cicely Nicole Edwards was crowned Elba High School's homecoming queen for 2013 on the morning of Friday, October 18, at Mack Wood Field by her assistant principal, Mr. Karl Bledsoe. There was much excitement and anticipation as the crowd awaited the announcement of queen during the traditional coronation ceremony. Cicely is the daughter of William and Tawana Edwards. She is a member of the Lady Tiger basketball team and she plans to pursue a degree in social work at Troy University.

2013 Boys and Girls State Delegates of Elba High School

2013 Boys State Delegate Saege Johnson

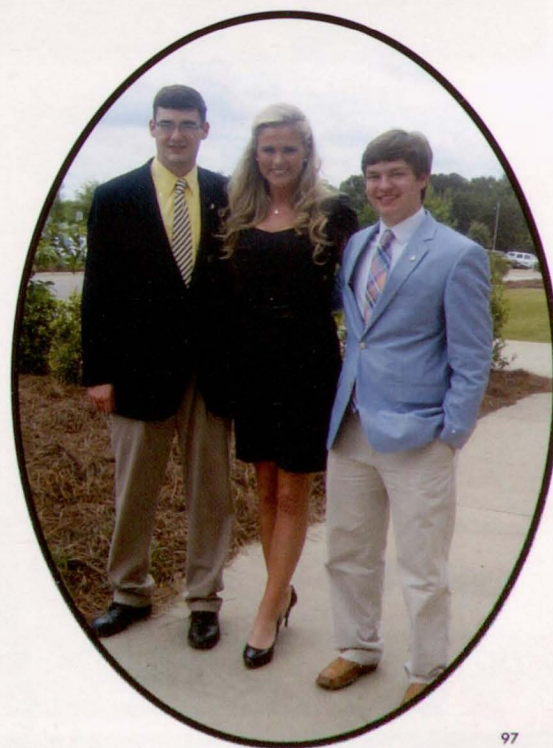

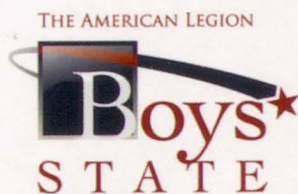

2013 Boys State Delegate Kaleb Richard

Boys State and Girls State are summer leadership and citizenship programs sponsored by the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary for upcoming high school seniors. Boys and Girls are usually nominated by their School's faculty for the summer of their senior year. Boys and Girls State programs both began in 1937 and are held in each of the U.S. states, usually on a college campus within that state, this year's program took place at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa.

Program participants are first divided up into subgroups referred to as cities. The citizens of each of these cities elect mock municipal officials and representatives to the mock state legislature. If enough citizens are present, then a county level is added to the program between city and state. The participants also elect state officials, such as governor, lieutenant governor, and other state-level officials that their real state has. The legislature meets to organize, elect leaders, and to pass bills, in a way that is similar to how their actual legislature operates. The program has a more traditional education focus, providing speakers, such as Nick Saban and Governor Robert Bentley, and training throughout the week and then concluding with mock political functions.

A Night Of Elegance

On April 12, 2014 the Junior Class of Elba High School hosted the annual Junior/ Senior Prom. The theme for this year's festivities was dubbed the title "A Night of Elegance." Whimsical lights and tool of blue and white gave the National Security Conference Center its Cinderella feel. The King and Queen of the ball was Cameron Arnold and Markia Reese. As the clock struck twelve party goers ditched their gowns and tuxes for more comfortable attire. Then the partiers were invited to the Junior/ Senior Breakfast hosted by the Senior Class. There, they laughed the night away. A huge thank you goes out to everyone who helped make "A Night of Elegance" a success.

I would like to say a special thank you to the band parents for their hard work and commitment to the band. My band parents are vital to the success of the Elba High School Marching Band. You guys are the best!

As Elba High School band director, I will do the very best I can to make the band program the very best it can possibly be. CCYLP

Coffee County Youth Leadership Program

The goal of CCYLP is to encourage juniors to recognize and develop self-discipline, self-respect, and leadership potential; to teach leadership and problem-solving skills that will foster an open-minded, non-violent approach to solutions; to provide students with a greater understanding of current issues through interaction with peers, leaders and decision-makers in the community, region and state; to expose students to resources available in our community and to provide students with opportunities to experience the difference they can make through service projects.

Annabelle,
We are so proud of you!
You are a sweet and special daughter.
Enjoy college as you make new friends and pursue your career interest. You'll do great!
We love you.
Mom & Dad

ADAM KELLEN WILSON

Adam,
Our prayer for you, before we ever glimpsed your sweet face, was this:
"For this reason, since the day we heard about you, we have not stopped praying for you and asking God to fill you with knowledge of his will through all spiritual wisdom and understanding. And we pray this in order that you may live a life worthy of the Lord and may please him in every way."

Colossians 1:9-10

And He has answered our prayer. You have surpassed all our wishes and dreams, living your life in a manner pleasing to the Lord, with joy, wisdom and FUN!

Now, as you step into your future, we have a new scripture for you:
"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."

Jeremiah 29:11

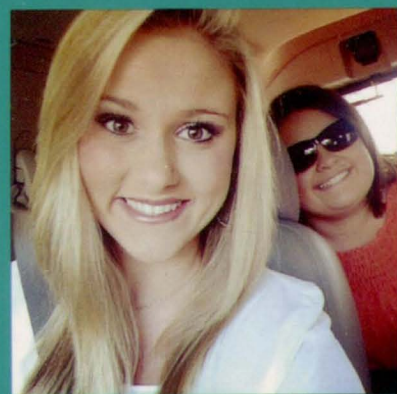

We are so unbelievably proud of you,
and love you with all that we are.

Congratulations!

Mom, Dad, Andrew, Aaron, and Abby

Kyle & Kaleb

Congratulations,
the road has been
long, but now you have conquered this portion of your lives.
We are very proud of you both, and are thankful for the young men you have grown to be. With God in your lives,
you will triumph over
every obstacle you encounter.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Congratulations,
Jasmaine!!!
We are so proud of you!!!
